

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 08, 2006

More great work by local developer Steve Aaron

Steve Aaron a local Kingston developer who has done wonders for affordable housing in Ulster County, has made a proposal to add a 66 unit assisted living complex for the frail and elderly. Steve Aaron and his company Birchez associates has done tremendous things for Ulster county and we really need to recognize what a great asset Mr. Aaron is to the community! May I suggest Donaldson give Aaron the key to county building? Affordable housing is something this county is in desperate need for and I thank Aaron for standing up to the plate and addressing it. In addition to Chambers Court, Birchez Associates has built Birchwood Village, an 80-unit apartment complex for low-income families on Flatbush Avenue in Kingston. The company is currently building another senior complex in Saugerties, called The Birches at Saugerties, and plans another in the town of Esopus, called The Birches at Esopus.